Free showing of feature film, “Knocked Up”

Student Union Activities (SUA) is hosting an advance screening of “Knocked Up” at the University of Kansas on May 4 in Woodruff Auditorium, level five of the Kansas Union. Universal Studios selected the University of Kansas for one of its college screener locations across the country. The film is released nationwide on June 1.

“Advance screenings are a great opportunity for students to see a movie they’d otherwise have to pay $8 to see,” said Amanda Hallier, SUA Films Coordinator.

The advance screening begins at 8 pm on Friday, May 4, and students must have passes to attend the showing. Passes are available in the Union Programs ticket office in the Kansas Union.

The following is the movie synopsis:

“Slobby Ben, played by actor Seth Rogen, and up and coming career girl Alison, played by actress Katherine Heigl meet at a bar, and end up having a one night stand. Eight weeks later, Ben is shocked when Alison meets him and reveals that she is pregnant. Despite having little in common, the two decide that they have to at least try to make some kind of relationship work for the baby’s sake.”
